Only in the last two or three years has the state of Oregon been advertised sufficiently to attract the attention in the East which it deserves. The efforts of the enterprising men who made the investment is bearing fruit. Thousands of home-seekers are now entering the state, and the rush will continue. According to the Baker City Democrat of Saturday last fully 2000 people had arrived on O. R. & N. Co. trains within twenty-four hours previous.

The ladies were given the court on Thursday, including evenings, and were also given the privileges of the court Tuesday until 4 o'clock p.m. This applies of course to those related to members of the club and whose rights are governed by rules of the club. In the regular weekly bowling tournament the scores are running high with the Wise team ahead. Leo Wise made a score of 61.

The Coos bay country is to be brought more in touch with this. A new corporation has been formed with headquarters at Portland for the purpose of establishing a steamboat line between Portland and Coos bay, via Astoria. The incorporators of the new company are R. E. Wilson, E. J. Hart and R. A. Giltner, and the capital stock of the new company is $125,000. It is the purpose of the new company as a starter to build a steamer to cost $100,000. The Coos bay country is a rich one and its trade is valuable. The most of it in the past has gone to San Francisco, but it is claimed that the new boat line will turn the most of it, if not all, this way. The new company promises to build and put on other boats as soon as the traffic will justify it.

The bark Harry Morse, which cleared for Portland yesterday, is still in the stream waiting a crew, reports a San Francisco paper. The owners wanted to ship the men at $40 a month with the option of paying them off on arrival of the vessel on the Columbia river. The men refused to sign except for the round trip and in consequence there was a deadlock. Monday negotiations will be completed and the chances are that some understanding will be reached. The Harry Morse business seems to be the introduction of the fight all along the line. The Alaska Packers and the other salmon combines are preparing to send their fleets out and in consequence sailors will be at a premium from now on. All the men who have been on the beach for the past three months are now looking forward to plenty of work and knowing that they will get it for the asking, they are holding out for top-notch wages. The Alaska fishermen have demanded an increase over the prices paid last year, and coast sailors are preparing to make a similar demand in their line.

At the meeting of the joint manufacturers' committee and the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to confer with the Clatsop mill people, in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce last night, in regard to building the proposed mill by the Clatsop mill people, there was an enthusiastic gathering of all of the members of the committees. The proposition made by the mill company was heartily approved by the members of both committees and they will start out at 9 o'clock this morning and call upon all of the leading property owners of the city to ascertain what can be done toward carrying the proposition through. The committee is very hopeful and believe that the matter will meet the support of all who have the interest of the city at heart. They urge property owners to be prepared to give them their hearty co-operation and lose no time in placing this matter on a practical footing. If the people can be awakened to the same enthusiasm exhibited by the members of the committees the new mill will soon be a go.

The Lewis and Clark road committee announces that a "road dance" will be given at the Chadwell school house on Saturday evening, March 15, with the object and purpose of "planking some more road."

A suit against the Taku Fishing Company, of Portland, has been instituted by Albert Robinson, of this city, to recover $10,000 damages for injuries received by the plaintiff while in the employ of the company in Alaska last year.

The St. Mary's Literary Society gave a pleasant private entertainment last night, it being "James Whitcomb Riley night." Among the selections was a reading by Mr. T. Lehey, a vocal duet by Misses Marie Grammas and Maggie Gilmore, reading by Frank Meany and a vocal solo by Mrs. R. Cearnas.

The committee composed of the Lewis and Clark citizens, who have been soliciting subscriptions to plank the road in their district report progress in raising the funds. The bad weather has interfered with getting the lumber cut, but it is expected to get the work under headway pretty soon.

Worthy Grand Matron Mrs. Clara A. Manden, of the Oriental Order of the Eastern Star, who resides at Burns, in this state, is making official visits among the lodges of the order and paid the local lodge a visit Monday. She exemplified the work for the lodge and is said to have done so in an impressive manner. Her visitation is reported to have been valuable to the lodge.

A number of handball players from the Commercial Club will go to Ilwaco next Saturday and play the handballists of that place a return game. They will return to Astoria the same day. It will be remembered that the Ilwaco players came to Astoria a few weeks ago and were defeated at Commercial Club. They have been practicing ever since and promise to give our local players a close game next Saturday.

The trio representing three nationalities and charged with assaulting Steward Rocoe Mayo night before last with a deadly weapon are all still in lock from all habitation and public thoroughfares as persons have been infected within that distance. The board will meet again next Saturday evening for the purpose of preparing a report and recommendations to the city council. The subject of vaccination was also discussed and it was urged that action be taken in this matter. It was thought best to urge the people to act in the matter, and not only to request parents to have their children vaccinated but also request the school board to urge the matter in the schools. It was stated that this action might save the city hundreds of cases should the disease break out in our midst. Dr. Cordner said one could not vaccinate too often; that physicians mingling with patients afflicted with the disease were constantly vaccinating themselves, repeating it every day or two if they thought it necessary. The point of selecting a dumping ground for the garbage of the city was also discussed by the board. Councilmen Utzinger and Jahlstrom were appointed a committee to look out for a suitable place and report the same together with recommendations to the city council next Monday evening. In discussing the matter the board reached the general conclusion that the foot of some isolated street should be selected and condemned by the city as a public dumping ground. The best plan is thought to select some low spot and by driving piling around it the garbage can be dumped into it and thus confined and kept out of the river. When the people are requested at present to clean up their premises the officers are met with the statement that they have no place to dump the garbage from their premises. This is true, said Mayor Suprenant, and for the health and cleanliness of the city the council should provide a place. The character of the refuse is more unsightly than dangerous to the public health, but still it was considered best to have it removed. The garbage consists of boxes, tin cans and trash which accumulates about the premises and places of business of citizens, and while a great deal of it could be destroyed by fire yet the major part of it, such as bottles and glass and cans, would remain should this method be adopted, hence the isolated dumping ground was considered the best plan.

A CHRISTIAN COLONY.

The Co-operative Christian Federation, for which articles of incorporation have been filed, has been founded by Rev. Herman S. Wallace, of Portland, formerly Methodist minister of Junction City.

Individual homes will be provided for all, children will be educated at the University of Oregon and State Agricultural College, free doctors and nurses in sickness and care of dependent ones will be guaranteed. The estimated value of present holdings of the community is $150,000 and the incorporators are Rev. Herman S. Wallace, Harry D. Staley, Frances E. Gotschall, Ernest Barton, R. W.
